INTRODUCTORY.

1903.

The publishers present herewith the annual edition of the City Directory for the twenty-fourth year of publication. The usual care has been devoted to the collection and compilation of the names and other information, and we believe this volume will be accorded the same measure of approval as its predecessors.

The use of the city directory is becoming more general every year, and its great importance as a business factor is now universally recognized. The entire population is represented and interested in it, and it is used by all classes and conditions of people in every part of the city, and by every stranger who comes within its limits every day in the year. The Saginaw Directory may be found in directory libraries in the principal cities of the United States and Canada, where it is consulted by those seeking information concerning its citizens, its mercantile houses and all the various institutions that make up a city.

A revised and up-to-date map of the city, with street guide, is furnished with this publication free of charge.

We are pleased to note the continued and increasing prosperity of Saginaw, and the rapid growth of its commercial and manufacturing interests, more especially during the past three years. The advancement of the city during that time is evidenced by the increased number of pages in the city directory.

Our seventeenth volume, published in 1900, contained 924 pages, while the present volume includes 1133 pages, an increase of 209 pages for the three years ending March 1, 1903.

As announced last year, a complete Directory Library, containing directories of the principal cities of the United States and Canada, will be maintained in connection with this publication, for free public reference, in the rooms of the Saginaw Board of Trade, 403-404 Eddy Building.

To find a name you must know how to spell it. It is not uncommon for members of the same family to spell their names differently, preserving the pronunciation. A few instances as follows: Cain, Kain, Kane; Cohen, Cohn, Kohn; Kelley, Kelly; Kenny, Kinney; Paine, Payne; Read, Reed, Reid; Reis, Reiss, Rice; Schneider, Snider, Snyder; Smith, Schmidt, Schmitt. Directories are arranged and printed in exact alphabetical order. If the examiner knows the way any name is spelled and will follow out the order of the alphabet, he will save time and vexation.

Respectfully,

R. L. POLK & CO.

STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE.

EXPLANATION—On referring to this Directory, it will be noticed that the names of streets, avenues, etc., follow each other in strictly alphabetical order without regard to location. To all the more important streets and avenues are subjoined the names and numbers of intersecting streets, avenues, etc., in the order in which they cross, so that if you wish to find 310 Lapeeravenue, by reference to the guide you will find that Weadock avenue intersects Lapeer avenue at No. 300 and Park street atNo. 400. The Evening News

And it will go into

Over 10,000 Homes Every Day

And into

7 Out of every 8 Homes in the City of Saginaw.

ALL of Saginaw's most successful business houses use the News, some of them use it exclusively. It pays them and it will pay you.

The Evening News has three times the paid circulation in the city of Saginaw of any other daily published in the town.

307, 309, and 311 Tuscola Street.

SAGINAW, MICH.

DO YOU READ

The Evening News?

Everybody in Saginaw does.

Out of a total of 7,800 homes in Saginaw The Evening News goes regularly into 7,400, thereby going into 7 out of every 8 homes in the city.

The reason everybody reads the News is because it is Saginaw's best newspaper and reaches the home just when you have plenty of time to read it.

It receives the full Associated Press reports, consequently it publishes the news of the world right up to the hour of going to press.
